DIARY NOTES

DD/S

26 May 1965

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning I reported that the President had requested that all Federal agencies hire one additional summer employee for each one hundred regular employees. To the extent possible, selection should be made on the basis of educational and economic need. The Director asked Mr. Kirkpatrick to try to get an exception for the Agency. (Later in the day Kirk reported to me that he had talked with Warren Irons, Executive Director of the Civil Service Commission, who excepted the Agency from the President's directive. I passed this on to Emmett Echols.)

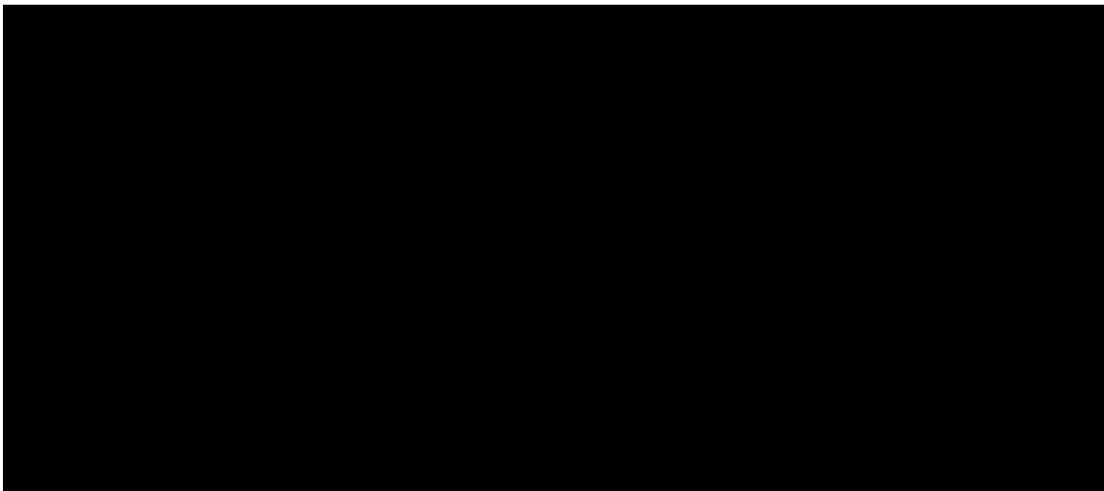

2. Alan Warfield talked to me about the memorandum I wrote him recently on exceptions which the Audit Staff had taken to some operations in the Procurement Division. I said that, although I understood some of his problems, I thought he and the Office of Finance should both work harder to straighten them out and perhaps devise some scheme to simplify the whole procedure.

3. Matt Baird appealed to me for an Agency policy on whether attendance at an Agency management course will be a prerequisite to enrollment in the Midcareer core course. I undertook to formulate this policy.

6. Larry Houston, Howard Osborn, and I met to discuss our response to the Moss subcommittee query on use of the polygraph. We agreed that we would submit written answers to their questions but would attempt to avoid leaving the paper in their possession. (Later in the afternoon Larry reported that [REDACTED] had had a fairly satisfactory conversation with the committee counsel and that he believed this arrangement would be possible.)

7. Alan Warfield reported to me that the new Chrysler is available. I asked him to assign it to Dick Helms. I offered the Lincoln to Mr. Kirkpatrick. He declined it and asked me to explore the possibility of using his own car and claiming mileage. I asked Alan to check this out.

9. [REDACTED] reported that [REDACTED] handcarried our proposed letter about our dual compensation disability cases to Mr. Frank Bartimo, Assistant General Counsel (Manpower) of the Department of Defense, who felt inclined to agree with our position and virtually instructed the Judge Advocate General of the Army to take corrective measures to discontinue the military disability retirement payments to these individuals but not to seek reimbursement of those payments already made.
